

Anglican Women's Empowerment, Network for Peace through Dialogue, International Institute on Peace Education, National Peace Academy, World Council for Curriculum and Instruction, The Pasos Peace Museum and Women's International League for Peace and Freedom

cordially invite you to

AVENUES TO ACCOUNTABILITY

Please join us for a symposium on Militarism, Trafficking, Exploitation and Justice

"There is no doubt that the tolerance of trafficking, sexual exploitation and abuse is a product of the militarization of the societies in which it takes place."

Madeleine Rees

This symposium will be a platform to discuss the theme of accountability for perpetrators of gender-based violence particularly focused on reforming immunity and injustice as addressed in the movie "The Whistleblower." Through candid conversation we will discuss the legal, political and human rights imperatives of these issues and identify ways forward including recommendations and concrete action steps.

Symposium Schedule

12:00pm – Introduction and screening of film, "The Whistleblower"

2:30pm – Madeleine Rees, General Secretary of Women's International League for Peace and Freedom

3:00pm - 4:30pm – Expert Panelists and Dialogue

If you have already seen the film please join us at 2:30pm for the expert panel discussion. All are welcome.

Saturday March 9

12:00pm – 4:30pm

Fordham Law School, Lincoln Center

140 West 62nd Street

New York, NY

Please RSVP to tuohy@peacewomen.org

www.peacewomen.org