

DEVELOPMENT BULLETIN 64

CONTENTS

GENDER AND DEVELOPMENT: BRIDGING POLICY AND PRACTICE

Discussion

- Introduction: Gender and development: Bridging policy and practice 4
Pamela Thomas, Development Studies Network, Australian National University

FEATURES

Gender mainstreaming: Taking stock

- What lies at the heart of the failure of gender mainstreaming: The strategy or the implementation? 8
Suzette Mitchell, International Women's Development Agency, Melbourne

- Women transforming the mainstream — a think piece 11
Lorraine Corner, UNIFEM Asia-Pacific and Arab States

- Transformational development and the wellbeing of women 16
Elizabeth Reid, Gender Relations Centre, Australian National University

- Whose World? The Bank on gender 21
Deb Foskey, International Women's Development Agency, Melbourne

- Men, gender and development 26
Michael Flood, Australia Institute, Canberra

- Gender mainstreaming: Moving from principles to implementation — The difficulties 31
Australian Council for Overseas Aid, Canberra

- Defending diversity, sustaining consensus:
NGOs at the Beijing World Conference on Women and beyond 34
Kristen Timothy, National Council for Research on Women, New York

- Developing gender mainstreaming and 'gender respect' 37
Tanya Lyons, Flinders University; Jayne Curnow, Australian National University; and Glenda Mather, Flinders University

- Gender mainstreaming: Getting it right in the workplace first 42
Jeannie Rea, Victoria University, Melbourne

- Rethinking gender mainstreaming (or, Did we ditch women when we ditched WID?)
A personal view 45
Patti O'Neill, independent consultant, New Zealand

- 'Women hold up half the sky': Gender mainstreaming and women's inequality in Australia 49
Hurriyet Babacan, University of the Sunshine Coast, Brisbane

Gender mainstreaming in practice

- Successful strategies for addressing gender equality issues in programs and projects: What works? 53
Juliet Hunt, independent consultant, Australia

- Practical challenges for gender mainstreaming in governance projects:
Observations of a consulting practitioner 58
Rima das Pradhan, IDP Americas and IDP Education Australia

A microcredit success story: Women make the difference Anne Bunning, Sagric International Pty Ltd, Adelaide	63
Gender mainstreaming in the Royal Papua New Guinea Constabulary Donna Loveridge with Fiona Kotvojs, ACIL Australia Pty Ltd, Melbourne	67
Building gender equality on the Thai–Burma Border within Burma’s exiled opposition movement Nang Lao Liang Won, Shan Women’s Action Network, Thailand	70
Gender and the formal education sector in Vanuatu Jane Strachan, University of Waikato, New Zealand	73
AIDS and the burden of care: Mainstreaming gender or ‘main-themeing’ women? Vicki Luker, State, Society and Governance in Melanesia Project, Australian National University	78
Gender mainstreaming and intersectionality
Some reflections on gender mainstreaming and intersectionality Jenny Riley, International Women’s Development Agency, Melbourne	82
The political uses of obscurantism: Gender mainstreaming and intersectionality Susan Hawthorne	87
Gender, faith and development: Rethinking the boundaries of intersectionality Robyn Kennedy and Kirsty Nowlan, World Vision Australia	92
Guidelines and ways ahead
Elements of a gender mainstreaming strategy: A 14-point framework Sarah Murison, Capacity Development Group, New Jersey	95
Introduction to gender analysis concepts and steps Juliet Hunt, independent consultant, Australia	100
IWDA Gender and Development Dialogue, 3–4 July 2003: Summary report Jenny Riley, International Women’s Development Agency, Melbourne	107