

International Journal of Conflict Engagement and Resolution (IJCER)

IJCER Call for Papers

The International Journal of Conflict Engagement and Resolution (IJCER) is produced by the Graduate Program on Conflict Resolution, Management and Negotiation at Bar-Ilan University. It is edited by Professors Michal Alberstein and Jay Rothman, guest edited by Dr. Rafi Nets-Zehngut, and guided by an international advisory board of leading scholars and practitioners in the field. IJCER is an international, bi-annual, double-blind peer-reviewed academic journal, published in both print and online formats. It publishes cutting-edge original full text articles (4,500 to 8,000 words maximum) from well-established and new scholars and practitioners as well as PhD students. The articles address conflicts, defined broadly to include: interpersonal, family, inter- and intra-organizational/business, as well as national and international conflicts. IJCER endorses all disciplines and methodologies, and conflicts from around the world, with the aim of contributing to the empirical, theoretical, prescriptive and practical understanding and creative engagement of conflict. Its particular hall-mark is in its disciplined effort to bridge gaps between theory and practice.

IJCER invites submissions to its coming issues – there is no deadline, submission is on a rolling bases. To submit a manuscript, please see the Author Guidelines and then submit your manuscript via our Editorial Manager (and also send the manuscript via email to Dr. Nets-Zehngut). For inquiries, contact Dr. Nets-Zehngut at journal.IJCER@biu.ac.il.
