

In Her Image: Photographs by Rania Matar

December 20, 2017–June 17, 2018

This exhibition brings together four bodies of work by the Lebanese-American photographer Rania Matar that trace the development of female identity through portraiture. Depicting transitional moments of life, from young girlhood to middle age, Matar's works address personal and collective identity through photographs mining female adolescence and womanhood. Photographing girls and women in both the United States and the Middle East, the artist shows how the forces that shape female identity transcend cultural and geographic boundaries.

Large print labels are available for use in the exhibition.

Free tours of this exhibition are available upon advance request. Schedule a tour by emailing adulthood@cartermuseum.org or calling 817.989.5038.
